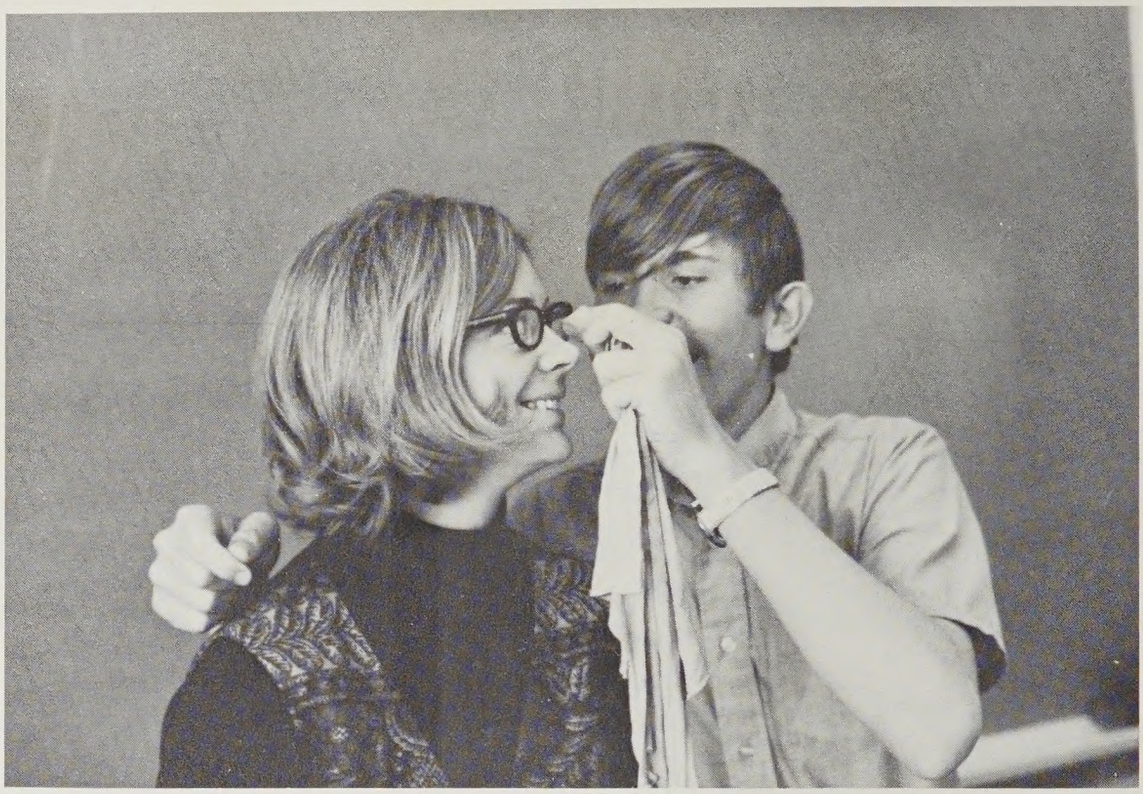
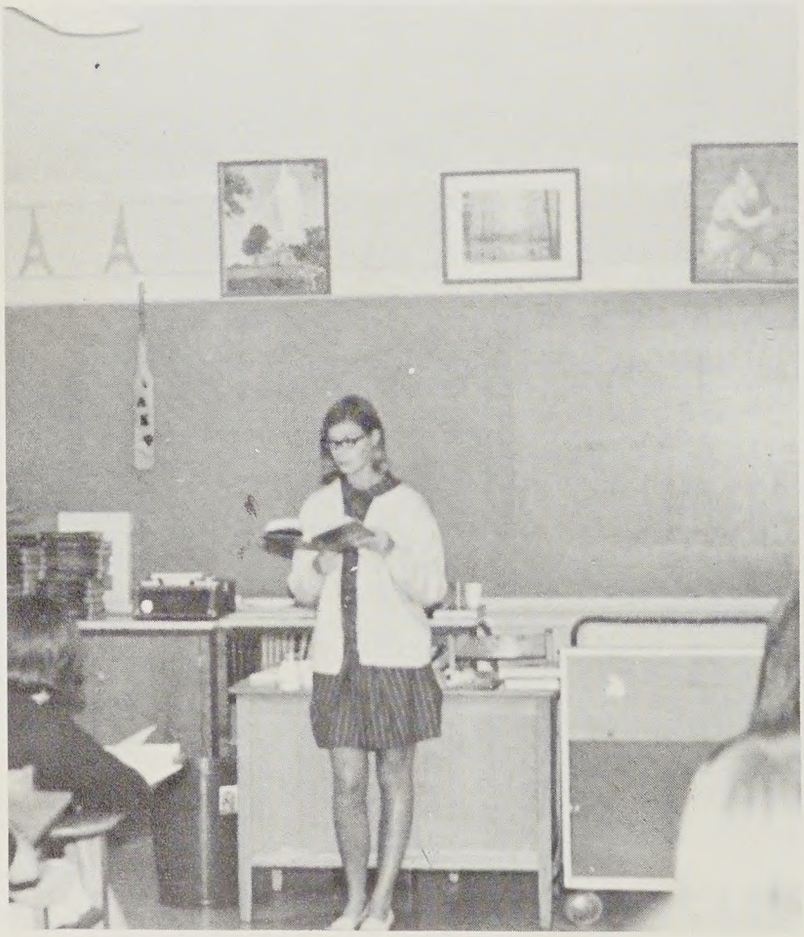
KATHY STOCKLEN — A TEACHER WHO CARES





The image of the teacher is changing. The stern, black-suited disciplinarian of our parents memories is gone. In its place is the modern teacher—ready to laugh with the students, to discuss rather than lecture, to listen rather than demand, to strive for concepts, not memorized facts. Especially in our small school, the program of extra-curricular activities depends upon teachers willing to share their time with students.

The rewards for teaching are intangible. A price cannot be put on the joy felt when a student grasps a difficult concept, and smiles with new self-assurance. Shared ideas, the excitement of the play's opening night, or the understanding counsel given a troubled student cannot be measured.

In dedicating the 1971 Bengal, the students of Rosman High are saying thank you to a person, who in the two short years she has been here, has enriched our lives. Thank you, MRS. KATHY STOCKLEN, for CARING.

THE BACKBONE OF STUDENT

STUDENT COUNCIL

GOVERNMENT

The STUDENT COUNCIL started the year with an effort to raise funds for school functions by selling candy. The money raised from this project was used to sponsor the annual Christmas Ball, the float which appeared in the Rosman Christmas Parade, and for improvements in the school. Other fund raising activities included the annual hippie day, and Sadie Hawkins Day, which replaced slave days this year.

The Council was also responsible for the selection of the student of the month at each of the assemblies it sponsored.

The winner is . . .

Brilliant idea, Gary!

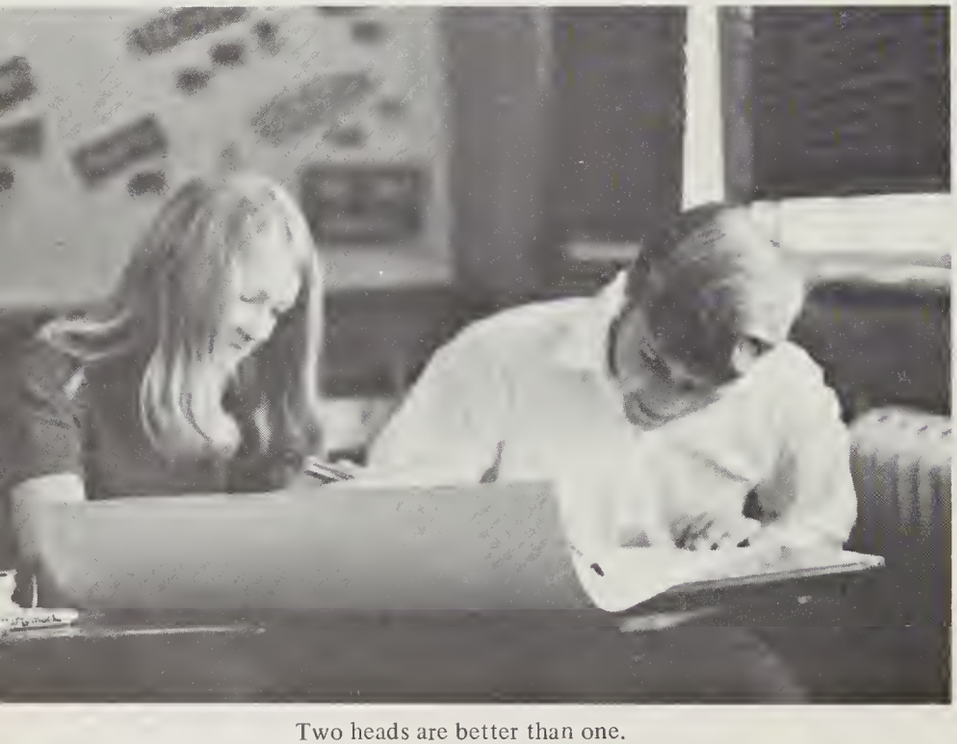
STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Mary Helen Huggins, Secretary-Treasurer; Kathy Wilde, President; and William Cathey, Vice-President.

Should we cut his head off here?

Ann, where's your section?

CAPTURING TODAY

The best word to describe the 1971 BENGAL is change. Most significant was the selection of a new, more symbolic name. By a vote of the students, THE ORIOLE became THE BENGAL. The staff has also radically changed the usual "Features" and "Sports" Divisions, combining them in "The Year." Finally, a three color cover enhances the beauty of this new book. In addition to the exacting work of preparing the annual, the staff has also sponsored several sock hops, and the MISS BENGAL PAGEANT.



Two heads are better than one.

Jesse, we can't use THAT picture!

FOR TOMORROW

Working? Them?

Marlene, is that the new Annual?

How's that candid, Margaret?

TIGER RAG STAFF

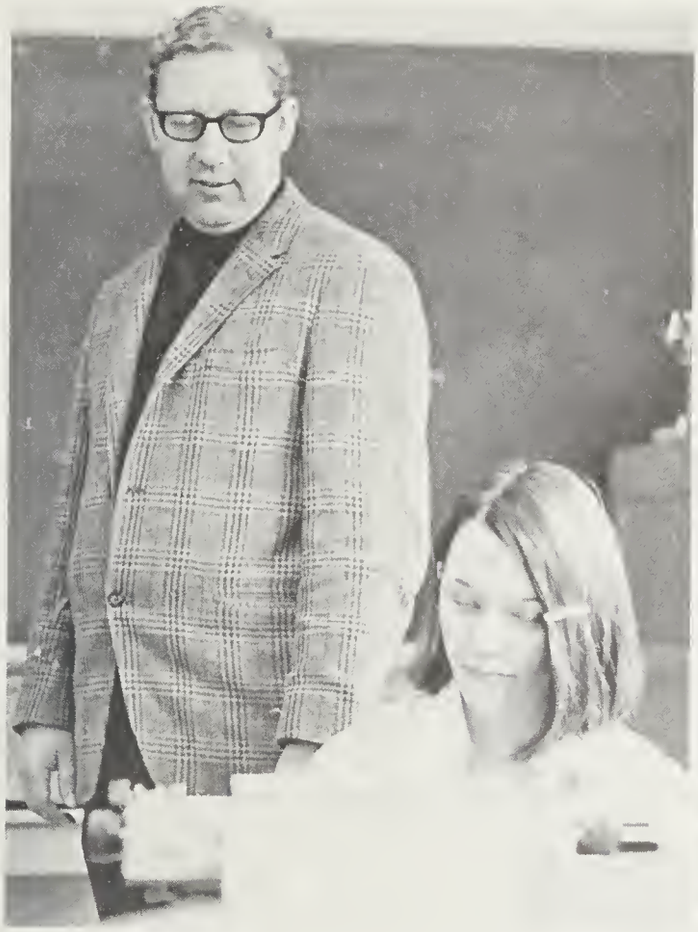
THE VOICE OF THE STUDENT

Dianne Owen draws the clever cartoons featured by the paper.

The interests of Rosman's students, determined by a survey, were the focus for changes made by the staff in the 1970-'71 issues of THE TIGER RAG. Realizing that student interests often extend beyond the school, the staff prepared a special air pollution edition, and invited many speakers to the school. A talk on the dangers of smoking, on air pollution, and a visit by "Miss North Carolina" were three well-received assembly programs. Many ideas for programs and speakers came from the stimulating press conferences the staff attended.

A Literary Contest sponsored by the staff revealed a wealth of undiscovered talent. Winning student poems, short stories, and essays were featured in a popular special edition of the paper.

Finally, the staff has entered two contests. If innovation in response to student interests is measured, we already have a winning paper.



Linda Petit types copy under the watchful eye of Mr. Howell.

Cindi Gillespie has "printer's ink" in her veins.

SPEAKS THROUGH THE TIGER RAG

After hours of hard work, the staff staples THE TIGER RAG, and puts the latest issue "to bed."

HONOR AND SERVICE

BETA CLUB and MONOGRAM CLUB, whose members have achieved excellence in studies and athletics, share a second similarity – service to their school and community. One of BETA CLUB'S most successful projects was the night spent Christmas carolling in the community. The members visited the elderly and ill, bringing cheerful moments and fruit baskets. The Club also attended the District and State conventions, and sponsored an assembly. The members also enjoyed frequent social suppers, often held at the sponsor, Mrs. Cothran's home.

The MONOGRAM CLUB, sponsored by Mr. Powell, also had an exciting year. The "powder puff football games" and the Homecoming Dance were two fund-raising projects enjoyed by the students and community. The profits helped purchase new uniforms for the Tigerettes.

BETA CLUB stimulates intellectual achievement.

Representative Charles Taylor discusses political issues with Beta members at a typieal meeting.

BETA CLUB OFFICERS include: Mary Helen Huggins, Reporter; Nancy Waldrop, Vice-President; Evelyn Beddingfield, President, and Cindy Gillespie, Secretary-Treasurer.

ARE THEIR BYWORDS

Has the gym burned down?

MONOGRAM CLUB OFFICERS: Kathy Wilde, President; Nancy Waldrop, Secretary; William Cathey, Vice-President.

Being a member of MONOGRAM CLUB means athletic excellence and dedication to improving the sports program through many projects.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

CLUBS GIVING A GLIMPSE

One of this year's most interesting meetings was a demonstration of styling by a leading professional stylist.

Will the Freshmen survive FHA initiation week?

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

OF TOMORROW

Two of the most active clubs at Rosman High are the FHA and the FFA. The FHA presented a fashion show, with students modeling their own creations. The members also attended the annual convention in Raleigh, and contributed to the Western Carolina Children's Center.

This has been a year of victories for the FFA. The TOOL IDENTIFICATION TEAM, led by Arthur Whitmire and including Steve McCall, Lawrence Owen, Alfred Owen, and Daniel Ramey, won the District Contest. The Land judging Team, paced by highest scoring Joe Henderson, won the District Contest. Both teams, coached by Mr. Clinton Owen, will compete in the State Contests. Further victories are anticipated in the Parliamentary Procedure and Live Stock Judging Competitions this spring.

The FHA and FFA operate the concession stand at ball games, using the money earned for their projects.

LAND JUDGING TEAM: Clinton Owen, Sponsor; Mike Owen, Roger Petit, Frank Summey, Joe Henderson, Lynn Bullock.

SERVING OTHERS WITH

Learning by doing – Checking out books, preparing bulletin boards, and replacing books on their proper shelves are some of the duties of Library Assistants and the LIBRARY CLUB.

Their duties may include typing tests, grading quizzes, or umpiring ball games – TEACHING ASSISTANTS are invaluable!

Whether they're typing the daily menus or flying from class to class, OFFICE ASSISTANTS form our communications network.

OUR SKILLS

"Learning by doing" is an apt description of the activities of the clubs pictured on this page. The FUTURE TEACHERS, for example, have initiated a tutoring program aiding students in elementary school with learning problems. They also sponsored Christmas and Easter parties for the Special Education students. Students planning business vocations receive valuable experience working in the office, while I.C.T. students hold part-time jobs in the community. The LIBRARY ASSISTANTS and CLUB have delved into library science studies in their service, and have brought to their work insights gained in travels to the local libraries and college libraries. TEACHER'S ASSISTANTS, in handling time-consuming paperwork, have freed Rosman teachers for more creative use of time. Each student exemplifies the positive side of modern youth – a willingness to serve.

The FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA plan activities giving them insight into their chosen profession.

INDUSTRIAL COOPERATIVE TRAINING CLASS combines classroom experiences with "on-the-job know-how."

The charms of music attracted a large group to the new FOLK SINGING CLUB.

STUDENT INTEREST

FOLK SINGING OFFICERS: Judy Morgan, President; Linda Petit, Vice-President; Janice Fisher, Secretary; Jean McNeely, Program Chairman; and Laurel McKinney, Historian.

CHESS, WILDLIFE, and FOLKSINGING CLUBS center around the varied interests of our students. The sudden appearance of chess boards during study hall led Mr. Tinsley to form a club whose meetings are devoted to tournaments in this exacting game. The club is also to be commended for its generous contribution to the Western Carolina Children's Center.

The absence of a glee club this year prompted Mrs. Kathy Stocklon to sponsor a FOLKSINGING CLUB. Using the talents of our student body, the club presented a delightful Christmas Program, and a Spring Concert is planned.

This year's WILDLIFE meetings have included films on fishing, hunting, gun safety, and conservation. The members plan a trip to a bow and arrow demonstration, and will enjoy a fly tying demonstration by their sponsor, Mr. Dwight Howell.

All eyes are centered on matches of wit and skill as the CHESS CLUB meets.

SPURS THE CREATION OF TWO NEW CLUBS

Although not a new club, WILDLIFE CLUB attracts those with interest in hunting, fishing, camping, and conservation of the forests and waters.

BUS DRIVERS

SKILL AND RESPONSIBILITY COMBINED

"Let's take the side road to my house."

FACULTY

A MAN IN THE MIDDLE

Mr. Alonzo Warren, Principal

A sudden hush falls over the classroom; furtive glances reveal Mr. Warren observing quietly at the door.

A shriek, "I'm caught!" resounds from the street. Another road-crosser meets his fate.

"I refuse to give up my lunch period to attend a pep rally!" is the battlecry at faculty meeting.

The team scores; the crowd roars. Standing near the door is Mr. Warren, with one eye on the game, another on the crowd . . .

These varied scenes reveal in part the many responsibilities of Rosman's principal. His is not an easy job, and not always a popular one, for he must balance student desires with faculty objectives and parents' demands. Even so, the office door is always open, and within sits a man who listens, and who cares, no matter how small our problem may be.

Even when bus reports are late, registers overdue, and the mimeograph machine obstinate, MRS. MARY JANE REESE, the school secretary, has a smile, and the personality that has won the admiration and love of the students and faculty of Rosman.
